

Best Industrial Spray Painting Service in India

Best Industrial Spray Painting Service in India

There is no world without colours. Colours play a crucial role in giving impressions on an object to us. There are numerous ways to apply colours to objects. Spray painting is one of the best methods in it. Epic coating Academy, a unit of BK Groups from Coimbatore, the Manchester of South India renders the best Industrial Spray Painting services across India since 2009. Industrial spray painting requires painters experienced in operating the equipments for giving a perfect coating. We, the Epic coating academy, with our team of experienced industrial spray painters render wastage-free and industrial spray painting services considering environmental safety at a reasonable cost. Our Industrial spray painting team comprises high-skilled 83 spray technicians, 26 blasters, 20 surface finish operators, five internationally certified corrosion engineers, a customer support officer, and NACE certified paint inspector. We ensure leveraging the skills of our painters with respect to the latest trends regularly with orientation programs. Industrial giants like TVS and L&T are one of the top clients of our Epic coating academy. With proficiency in this field, we provide solutions for the most difficult occasions.

Spray Painting Service in India

The Epic Coating Academy provides industrial spray painting services to our valuable customers according to their given specifications. We ensure providing chemical-resistant painting services with our upgraded pieces of equipment such as compact automatic spray guns, Middle-pressure automatic spray guns, special high-performance automatic spray guns, and much more high-quality pieces of equipment from the popular spray gun manufacturer Roxgen industries. A successful industrial spray application is achieved through a careful study of the correct spraying techniques for each piece of equipment, which saves spend on time and materials. These factors as a whole result in the best quality finish with a feasible effort and cost. To imply these techniques, one must be aware of the spray gun's controls. Our NACE certified paint inspector with our team of spray painting experts ensures you deliver a sustainable solution for your needs. Considering People, Quality, Velocity, and Cost (PQVC metrics) as the primary goals we are ready to assist our valuable customers with our optimal and long-lasting spray painting services with 100% availability of every equipment at any cost of time.

What we can paint

The Epic Coating Academy provides painting services for industrial equipment such as vehicle bodies, metallic equipment, supply, and suitable equipment, technical consultancy service, application contract service, solutions, and many more. We provide our remarkable services on-site in the respective industries. The goal of our Epic Coating Academy is to provide the best spray finish meeting international standards. The secret of the best spray finish relies upon Industrial coating, Performance coating, Maintenance coating, Defence parts surface finish, Engineering parts painting, and Auto ancillary parts painting.

Industrial Powder Coating in India

Powder Coating is a painting process where powders are applied to a surface through an electrostatic process. It is the best fit for painting industrial equipment. The oil and grease of the equipment are removed, and the powder is applied through a spray gun with the help of different types of nozzles related to the size of the equipment. After the application, the industrial equipment is cured i.e., heated at different temperatures. Powder Coating is basically used for providing a high-quality finish. It makes the equipment sturdy and flexible as well and takes a shorter time to coat than wet paint application. Powder coating is also used for the protection of equipment from heat, cold, grime, scratching, corrosion, or bleaching. A powder-coated equipment can last up to 20 years if it is not consistently used or exposed to an environment such as under Ultraviolet (UV) light or outdoors. The Epic Coating Academy, being a pro in the field of Industrial Spray Painting also provides a high-quality and durable powder coating to industrial equipment.